REQUIREMENT FOR UNITY OF INVENTION

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in response to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

- I. Claims 1 and 4-11, drawn to a method of screening for therapeutic agents useful in the treatment of a disease, comprising detecting binding of a test compound to a AdipoRi polypeptide.
- II. Claims 2 and 3, drawn to a method of screening for therapeutic agents useful in the treatment of a disease comprising determining the activity of a AdipoR1 polypeptide.
- III. Claims 12-17, drawn to a method of screening for therapeutic agents useful in the treatment of a disease, comprising detecting binding of a test compound to a AdipoRi polynucleotide.
- IV. Claim 18, drawn to a method of diagnosing a disease comprising determining the amount of a AdipoR1 polynucleotide in a sample taken from said mammal.
- V. Claim 19, drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising a therapeutic agent which binds to a AdipoR1 polypeptide.
- VI. Claims 20, 21 (both in part), and 25 (in part), drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising a therapeutic agent which regulates the activity of a AdipoR1 polypeptide, wherein said agent is a small molecule.

VII. Claims 20, 21 (both in part), 22, and 25 (in part), drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising a therapeutic agent which regulates the activity of a AdipoR1 polypeptide, wherein said agent is a nucleic acid molecule.

VIII. Claims 20, 21 (both in part), 23, and 25 (in part), drawn to a pharmaceutical composition comprising a therapeutic agent which regulates the activity of a AdipoR1 polypeptide, wherein said agent is a polypeptide.

IX. Claims 24 and 26, drawn to a method for the treatment of a disease comprising administering to a mammal an effective amount of a regulator of AdipoR1.

2. The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature of Group I is considered to be a method of screening for therapeutic agents useful in the treatment of a disease, comprising detecting binding of a test compound to a AdipoRi polypeptide.

The special technical feature of Group II is considered to be a method of screening for therapeutic agents useful in the treatment of a disease comprising determining the activity of a AdipoR1 polypeptide.

The special technical feature of Group III is considered to be a method of screening for therapeutic agents useful in the treatment of a disease, comprising detecting binding of a test compound to a AdipoRi polynucleotide.

The special technical feature of Group IV is considered to be a method of diagnosing a disease comprising determining the amount of a AdipoR1 polynucleotide in a sample taken from said mammal.

The special technical feature of Group V is considered to be a pharmaceutical composition comprising a therapeutic agent which binds to a AdipoR1 polypeptide.

The special technical feature of Group VI is considered to be a pharmaceutical composition comprising a therapeutic agent which regulates the activity of a AdipoR1 polypeptide, wherein said agent is a small molecule.

The special technical feature of Group VII is considered to be a pharmaceutical composition comprising a therapeutic agent which regulates the activity of a AdipoR1 polypeptide, wherein said agent is a nucleic acid molecule.

The special technical feature of Group VIII is considered to be a pharmaceutical composition comprising a therapeutic agent which regulates the activity of a AdipoR1 polypeptide, wherein said agent is a polypeptide.

The special technical feature of Group IX is considered to be a method for the treatment of a disease comprising administering to a mammal an effective amount of a regulator of AdipoR1.

Accordingly, Groups I-IX are not so linked by the same or a corresponding special technical feature as to form a single general inventive concept. Thus, unity of invention is lacking and restriction is appropriate.

Species Election

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows: the various diseases as listed in claims 1-3 and 18-26.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowed generic claim. Currently, the following claim(s) are generic: 1-5, 11-16, 21-25, 31-33, 41, 46, 51, and 56.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the species listed above are not regarded as being of similar nature because the species do not share a property or activity and a common structure because each disease represents a distinct pathological condition.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48 (b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48 (b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17 (I).
